SHOT THROUGH HAND

Rio Grande Conductor Wounded While Resisting Masked Highwayman.

OGDEN, Nov. 8 .- Conductor C. G. Eldredge of a Rio Grande dining car ras shot through the left hand at an arly hour this morning by during robhers, who attempted to loot his ear, which was standing on a sidetrack in the local yards near the corner of Twenty-first street and Reeves avenue. Although the attempted robbery of the car was boldly planned, yet the actions of the two masked robbers in diented that they were amateurs on the job.

The ear came into Ogden late last night, and was placed on the sidefrack by the switching erew, awaiting the Rio Grande train which left the city at 7 o'clock this morning. Conductor Eldredge and his seven white assistants had made their beds and dropped off to sleep, when, in some manner, the burglars gained an entrance. The robbers evidently knew that londactor Eldredge was the custodian of the money, and passed over the forms of the other sleeping occupants until they reached his bed. Roughly shaking him they demanded that he turn over to them all of the money in the ear, which amounted to about $400. Conductor Eldredge, although not fully the ear, which amounted to about $490. Conductor Eldredge, although not fully awakened, began to resist the two masked men and during the senffle he was shot through the hand. The other employees of the dining car rushed to his assistance, but the robbers made their escape empty handed. The attempted robbers of the ear occurred at 3.45 o'clock, after all of the employees had dropped off to sleep. A meager had dropped off to sleep. A meager description of the two men who at-tempted to rob the ear was furnished the police this morning.

ELECTION RETURNS ARE CANVASSED BY COUNCIL

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN Nov. 8.—The greater portion of this overding's session of the city councils was taken up with a canvass of last Tuesday's election returns. While a few discrepancies were found in the results as first announced, they will not affect the final result. Instead of defeating A L. Brewer by a plurality of 155 votes Major-elect "Bill" Glasmann's plurality was found to be 134 out of a total of 655 votes cast for the three candidates. The result of the councilmant election in the Fourth ward, which was reported to be doubtful, was found at the canvass tonight to be as it was first announced. Chris Flygare, the Democratic candidate, obtained a picrality of tenvotes over Parley T. Moyes, the Republican candidate. A few other slight discrepancies in the total vote were found. When the work of canvassing the refurns that been intelned a short business session of the conneil was leid to pass only on matters of an urgent nature. The resignation of Ben Ternes, police desk sergeant, was received and accepted, but the matter of turning his successor was put off. Pay rolls for various city employees and claims for current expenses were approved, and the council adjourned till Wednesday night.

THE FERRER MEETING

To the Editor: Sir.—The crowd which assembled in the Unitarian church last Sunday evening to protest against the legal execution of Franagainst the legal execution of Fran-isco Ferrer cannot be congratulated on possessing a superfluity of common sense. Men of average intelligence sense. Men of average intelligence are supposed to read the evidence produced at a trial before condemning the judge who passes sentence on a prisoner. Yet here are these men, in mass meeting assembled, asking intelligent citizens to join them in exectating the judges who tried Ferrer for conspiracy to murder, without having in their possession the testimony of a solitary witness who gave evidence, for or against Ferrer, when on his trial for exeiting a reckless mob to murder

s. A wealth of floral offerings and arson.

When on this memorable Sunday night the Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, Rev. Thurston Brown, one Murray King and a heterogenous collection of human units met in the church to place on record the expression of their sympathy with the Spanish anarchist, and his doctrines, they worded their resolutions with such covert tact as to create the impression that they were speaking on behalf of the citizens of Salt Lake.

Sentlemen, who are yet Was there

ing on behalf of the citizens of Sait Lake.

Gentlemen, who are ye? Was there present at your meeting a solitary man of commercial, educational or social standing authorized to speak for the intelligence or manhood of this city? Not one. Who commissioned you to arrogate to yourselves the right to mail a petition to Washington or Madrid in the name of the clean and self-respecting citizens of Salt Lake? Why, the thugs, the sandbaggers, the hold up men of Salt Lake have the same right as you to meet on Commercial street and resolve: That we, citizens of Salt Lake, in mass meeting assembled, enter our indignant protest, etc."

Who is this W. S. Dalton—with an Irish name—who "made a bilter at tack on the Catholic church"—the church of his ancesters? Where does be come from, and what are his antecedents? While this demagogue was shouting his demanciations against the shouting his dennuciations against the Catholic church, here is what the Salt Lake papers were setting up:

And is the Boston Pilot:
Why is it that in every American newspaper the church is being dragged into the question? It is well known, and has been reported the world over, that the authorities of the church were the first to petition for elementy towards Ferror. We have yet to learn the whole proceedings. Why this deliberate faisineation of the truth? Why is it copied from paper to paper without a question being asked or answered? That the an-

And we recommend Mr. Goshen t read this extract from the Troy (N. Y.

Times:
Chevalier A. Cerucion, director of the Troy plano school, and a native of Spain, ecturned yesterday from a two-months' visit in that country. Chevalier Cerucion also visited Spain last year, and is familiar with conditions there. He deprecates the allusion to Francisco Ferrer, executed after a court-martial, as a "martyr of liberty." Chevalier Cerucios says: "He was not a martyr of liberty, but a leader of the anarchists of Barcelona. Perrer was not only an anarchist, but an athelst, and he taught athelstical doctrines in his school. The result of that was seen during the rioting in Barcelona, when forty-two beautiful churches were set on fire two beautiful churches were set on fi and destroyed. That was during the we beginning July 26 and cuding August and destroyed. That was during the week beginning July 26 and ending August I. I was in Barcelona two weeks later, and drove through the city until the sight of the ruins of churches became monotonous to the and I discontinued the ride. I had seen thirty-six of the forty-two destroyed churches. In connection with these churches much convent property was burned. The editives which contained noted paintings by Velasquez, Murillo and other celebrated masters, and many gold, silver and diamond furnishings, were destroyed by the mob. The streets of Barcelona were filled with valuable paintings and precious church decorations, which had been thrown away because the roters could not soil the property and had no place to conceal it. If there had been a wind in Barcelona at the time of the lire the whole city would have been in ashes. Ferrer was the leader of this awful destruction, and he led it as an anarchist and atheist. He was not a socialist, and had no opinions other than those of an anarchist for the reform of government.

To understand the conditions in Spain "To understand the conditions in Spain, must be remembered that Catalonia, he province of which Bareslona is the apital, has antipathy for the remainder f Spain, and the Catalonians have always hated the Castilians, and vears ago xpelled them from their province. The nimosity has continued; so the sentiment of the Catalonians is not that of the sizer portion of Spain, which is satisfied with the monarchy and is loyal to the eigning house. But Catalonia desires to be independent of the monarchy of Spain, and its capital has become the refuge for he snarchlasts of Europe, including those the anarchists of Europe, including those from Italy and other countries. While the present danger of King Alfonso is great, since the anarchists will selze every opportunity to destroy him. Spain is loyal to him, and there will be no revolution in that country. The Republican leaders in the provinces of Spain and in the chamber of deputies have no sympathy with Ferrer or with the anarchistic outrages of which he bus been the promoter and leader. To indicate the character of Ferrer, it is sufficient to say that among his effects was found the cheek given Morales, who afterward committed suities, for his attempt to kill the king by throwing a bomb. Ferrer tried to start throwing a bomb. Ferrer tried to start hide, for his attempt to ld!! the king by browing a bomb. Ferrer tried to start-iots simultaneously in three cities, Bar-belona, Madrid and Valencia, but was successful only in Barcelona."

Will the simple-minded Rev. Mr. Goshen and the notoriety-hunting Thurston Brown, who erred when he said that Ferrer did not get a fair trial, read this? From America (New York), October 20, 1909. October 30, 1909:

October 30, 1909:

Fifteen witnesses deposed. The testimony showed betrers efforts to stir up men in the suburbs to join the rioters,
and his instigation to burn the convents.

Three witnesses testified to seeing him a actually leading a group of rioters. The testimony and the decuments found in his house were the groundwork of the prosecutor's address to the court which was dispassionate, well reasoned, and moderate in ione. Counsel for the defense followed with a brillhant and eloquent plea. Ferrer was then asked whether he had anything to say in his to was behalf. His few remarks, in slow, uncertain tones, produced an unfavorable impression on the throng in the courtroom, as was seen in their faces.
The session was then declared at an end and the public filed out in a quiet and orderly way.
